The Brew Fest craze is coming to historic Rockville, and you can be part of our inaugural event!

TALK ABOUT COMMUNITY SPIRIT!

- Rockville Community Alliance (RCA) is taking the lead in organizing this brew fest.
- Rockville Downtown Association (RDA) is providing valuable seed money and “PR.”
- Rockville Volunteer Services founder Ken Kaplan, who owns the Hockanum Mill, is donating use of his riverfront property.
- Rockville’s American Legion Post 14 is a key beneficiary of 2018 brew fest proceeds.

The sprawling 140,000 square foot, 1800’s Hockanum Mill is the home of Kaplan Cycles, which specializes in restoring and reselling classic motorcycles. The vision also includes a future motorcycle-themed brew-pub, the New England Motorcycle Museum, residential units, and other synergistic mixed-use commercial ventures.

WEST MAIN STREET WILL BE CLOSED TO CREATE A PEDESTRIAN BOULEVARD BETWEEN THE MILL AND THE RIVER

Since the brew fest is new, we don’t have any photos, but the above images were taken during a previous block party

Historic downtown Rockville, Connecticut is in the midst of a dramatic revival! From painstakingly restored mills to an eclectic mix of new businesses, new urban hiking trails, new investments in infrastructure and health care, new cultural events and attractions, Rockville hasn’t seen this kind of tangible resurgence of community spirit and economic vitality in decades. This festive new outdoor celebration will be nestled between the sparkling, flowing Hockanum River to the south and the restored 1800’s Hockanum Mill to the north. West Main Street will be closed to create a secure, restricted Pedestrian Boulevard with as many as 25 craft brewers, wineries and distilleries plus food service, live music and displays. A beer garden will be set up in the treed area along the riverside.

We’re currently lining up sponsors, which include:

Talk about convenient! The new Hockanum Brew Fest will be at 200 West Main Street, just 1.5 miles from I-84 in Vernon, CT.
